Guild Concert.

The first entertainment in the Guild course will begin Monday evening next and will be a concert by the quartette of the Second Collegiate Church of New York city, assisted by Mr. Franz Wilczek, violinist. The quartette is composed of the following: Miss Edith R. Chapman, soprano; Miss Corinne Walsh, contralto; Mr. John Young, tenor, and Mr. Frederick Wheeler, basso. Miss Chapman has a pure and flexible soprano voice and sings with ease and authority and is entirely free from affectation. Miss Walsh is a contralto of great ability and is at present engaged in singing at the Maine Festivals with Mme. Lillian Blauvelt, Mme. Louise Homer and Mr. David Bispham. Mr. Young has already sung for the Guild and so thoroughly captivated his hearers that it is hardly necessary to enlarge on his abilities. Mr. Wheeler has a strong clear baritone voice of fine range, which he uses with intelligence. Mr. Franz Wilczek, the violinist, has just arrived in New York from his tour of Australia, New Zealand, Hawaii and the Pacific coast. One of his most noteworthy successes was at the musicale given by Mrs. Ogden Mills to Prince Henry of Prussia, who, after the programme, enthusiastically went forward to make a most cordial personal expression of approbation to Mr. Wilczek for his masterly rendering of his solo.

Basket-Ball.

The Catholic Lyceum seniors and juniors won both games at Union Hall Thursday night. The senior game was the most exciting played in this town. The features of the senior game were the playing of Johnson and McGinley, and Vreeland of Newark. The junior game was a one-sided contest, the Bloomfield juniors having everything their own way; the features of the junior game were the shooting of Callan. Following is the line up:

McGinley	right forward	Long
Johnson	center	Vreeland
Cavanaugh	right guard	Young

Death of Robert S. Rudd.

Robert Schell Rudd, former mayor of the Borough of Glen Ridge, died in the Roosevelt Hospital, New York City, Wednesday morning of heart disease, following an attack of typhoid fever. The announcement of Mr. Rudd's death caused profound sorrow in Glen Ridge, where he had been so long a central figure in the social and political life of the place, also throughout this town where he had many friends, and also throughout the county and State among those he had been associated with in politics and business.

Mr. Rudd was born in the city of New York in 1856. He was the youngest son of Joseph Rudd, in his time a well-known New York merchant. He attended Hamilton College, Clinton, Oneida County, New York State graduating from that institution with honor.

Mr. Rudd also graduated from the Law School of Columbia University, adopted the profession of the law and began practice in New York and was for twenty years senior partner in the firm of Rudd & Hunt, 35-37 Nassau street.

About twenty years ago Mr. Rudd purchased from E. S. Wilde the handsome brownstone residence on Ridgewood avenue, Glen Ridge, and took up his residence there.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudd became members of the Westminster Presbyterian Church here and Mr. Rudd served the church officially for several years. He was liberal of his means and contributed freely to the charitable work of the church, particularly towards the distributions among the poor at Christmas times.

Mr. Rudd was one of the charter members of the Glen Ridge Club. He served in the Board of Directors many years and was for several years president of the club. He was among the original stockholders of the Bloomfield National Bank and a member of the first board of directors.

In 1891 an independent movement in local politics selected Mr. Rudd as a candidate for the position of Councilman at-Large and he was elected. Contrary to public expectations he was not made chairman of the committee, although by virtue of his election as Councilman-at-Large it was assumed that he would be made chairman. As a member of the Township Committee, Mr. Rudd served as Chairman of the Sewer Committee and as it was at this period that a sewerage system was introduced here, and Mr. Rudd with his associate on the Sewer Committee conducted the negotiations with the city of Orange, that resulted in the building of the union outlet sewer.

In 1895 the Borough of Glen Ridge was created. Mr. Rudd was the unanimous choice of the people for the position of Mayor, and he held the position seven years when he resigned. In politics, Mr. Rudd was a Democrat, and was twice a member of the State Committee and withdrew from that position on account of his antagonism to the political theories of the Bryan wing of the Democracy. At two different times Mr. Rudd declined to yield to the importunities of his friends to accept his party nominations for Congress and he was prominently named as a possible candidate for Governor. He was a member of the Jeffersonian Club of Newark.

Mr. Rudd was a man of kindly heart and genial disposition. His aid and influence were both freely given in cases of need or of promoting the advancement of young men.

Mr. Rudd always expressed an affection for Clinton, N. Y., where he spent many summers.

He was a trustee of Hamilton College, a member of the University, Down Town, Alpha Delta Phi and Reform clubs, and a director of the Ball & Wood Co. He leaves a widow and four children.

Westminster Church.

To-morrow evening there will be a Praise Service in this church. All of the music by organ, choir and congregation will be by the well-known English composer Sir Joseph Barnby. The following selections will be rendered by the organist and quartette: Organ Prelude, Allegretto; Anthem, "Sweet is Thy Mercy Lord," Barnby; Anthem, "King all Glorious," Barnby; Organ Offertory, "Andante Grazioso," Barnby; Anthem, "Crossing the Bar," Barnby; Anthem, "The Lord bless you," Barnby; Bass Solo, "O ye that Love the Lord," Barnby; Organ Postlude, "Gloria Patri," Barnby.

Horton Crane

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Crane in Essex avenue, Glen Ridge, was the scene of a pretty wedding Tuesday night, when their daughter Miss Florence M. Crane became the bride of John M. Horton of Glen Ridge. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George L. Curtis, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in white silk with veil and orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The maid of honor was Miss Genevieve Russell. She wore white silk and carried white carnations. Aubrey R. McQuillin of Brooklyn was best man.

Only a few relatives and immediate friends of the couple witnessed the ceremony. After an extended tour of the South the couple will reside in Essex avenue, Glen Ridge.

Ladies' costumes, tea-gowns, break-fast jackets, etc., cut and baked. Finishing touches to home-made gowns. Special attention to evening dresses. Call 10 A. M. to 4 P. M. Mondays and Saturdays excepted. Mrs. CONWAY, 57 Clinton Street near Washington Street, Bloomfield.—Adm.

GOOD WAY TO DO BUSINESS.

W. W. Keyler Sells Reliable Remedy at Half-Price and Guarantees a Cure.

When one can buy gold dollars for fifty cents, it is a good time to purchase. In offering a 50 cent bottle of D. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of consumption and dyspepsia at 25 cents, W. W. Keyler is giving one of the greatest trade chances ever offered to the people of Bloomfield.

If food does not digest well, if there is gas or pain in the stomach, if the tongue is coated and the breath bad, if there is constipation and straining, Dr. Howard's specific will cure you. If it does not, you have Druggist W. W. Keyler's personal guarantee to return your money.

This remarkable remedy comes in the form of tiny granules, and can be carried in the vest pocket or purse. It is very popular in New York city, and it is not unusual to see some one after a meal at one of the large hotels or restaurants take a dose of this specific, knowing that it will prevent the uncomfortable feeling which frequently follows a hearty meal.

Dr. Howard's specific gives quick relief and makes permanent cures of constipation, dyspepsia, and all liver troubles.

These are strong statements, but W. W. Keyler is giving his customers a chance to prove their truth at just half the regular price—sixty doses for 25 cents. If they are not found true, all you have to do is to ask for your money. Advt.

Sands-Nichols.

The marriage of Mrs. Elizabeth Nichols, a well-known society leader of Glen Ridge, to William P. Sands, a wealthy, and prominent resident of Montclair, took place Wednesday afternoon at Christ Episcopal Church, Hudson, N. Y. Owing to the death of John Nichols, a son of the bride, the ceremony was witnessed by the immediate relatives of the contracting parties only. The Rev. John F. Nichols, rector of the church and a brother-in-law of the bride officiated.

The bride, who was given away by her father-in-law John A. Nichols, a prominent Brooklyn lawyer, was becomingly attired in a gown of white chiffon velvet and a black velvet hat trimmed with long black plumes. There were no attendants.

A luncheon was served in the rectory of the church following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Sands called for Cuba where they will remain a month. Upon their return they will take up their residence at 185 Gates avenue, Montclair.

A reception will take place in November. A private car conveyed the guests from New York, Glen Ridge and Montclair to and from the wedding. The bride is a prominent member of Christ Episcopal Church.
